

TripMate

INTRODUCTION –

TripMate is a persona-based travel chatbot designed to act as a friendly travel companion. Its main purpose is to instantly suggest the best places to visit in a given city or destination with minimal user input.

The bot follows a simple and user-friendly approach—the user only needs to enter the name of a place, and TripMate immediately responds with a curated list of popular tourist attractions for that location. This design avoids complex questions and provides quick, relevant travel suggestions. TripMate is built as a lightweight prototype for demonstration purposes, covering a limited set of destinations while showcasing clear logic, smooth conversation flow, and effective persona behavior. The system is easily scalable and can be expanded to include more destinations and features in future versions.
